A workshop on “How to use Google Classroom” was held on 15th March 2021 in our departments lecture hall no 206.

Prof. A. N. Naik explains Google Classroom is a handy tool for teachers to organize their classes and share resources with students. explained how to use it, teachers can create a class online and invite students to join. Once everyone is in, teachers can post assignments, announcements, and links to materials like videos or documents. Students can then complete and turn in assignments digitally, and teachers can provide feedback. It's all in one place, making it easy for both teachers and students to stay organized and connected throughout the learning process.
